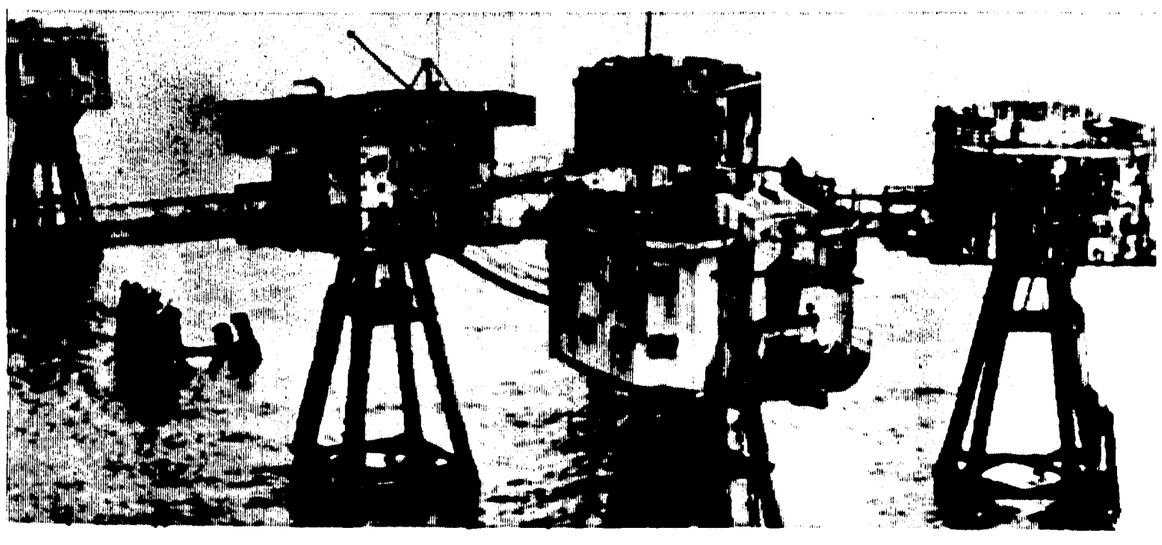
$100 Million Paper Mill For Munising



A MYSTERIOUS boarding party of 10 men and a woman seized this pirate station, Radio City, which operates from an abandoned anti-aircraft fort on Shivering Sands, in the Thames estuary 12 miles off the British coast. The incident occurred Monday and became known Wednesday shortly before its owner Reg Calvert, was found slain at the home of another pirate station operator, Maj. William Oliver Smedley, who was charged with murder. (AP Wirephoto by cable from London)

British Officials Plan No Actions On Radio Raiders

LONDON (AP) — Police said today they had boarded the pirate "radio city" but planned no action against the raiders who seized and silenced the offshore station.

Six detectives spent three and a half hours aboard the station as part of their investigation of the shotgun slaying of the station's owner, Reg Calvert, 37, whose body was found early Wednesday in the home of Maj. Oliver Smedley, 54. Smedley, a prominent businessman and Liberal polition, was charged with murder.

"Our visit was solely in connection with the death of Mr. Calvert," a police spokesman said.

The pop music station, located in an abandoned antiaircraft fort off the southeast English Coast, is beyond the three-mile offshore limit of British jurisdiction and thus escapes the British ban on commercial radio broadcasting.

One of the raiders said the party had boarded the station to recover a five-ton transmitter that hadn't been paid for. He said they were waiting for a tug to remove the equipment.

Smedley, the man charged with murder, is chairman of Project Atlanta, an organization linked with the chain of pirate stations broadcasting off the coast. He is a former vice president of the Liberal party. He was denied bail and was ordered held for a hearing July 2.

Griffin Urges Hold Support Of Vietnamese

By The Associated Press

Michigan Sen. Robert Griffin made his first formal Senate speech today and said the Viet Nam war will not be won by merely dropping bombs or occupying Viet Cong territory.

Griffin, who was appointed to the Senate by Gov. George Romney last month, outlined a four-point program to win what he said is the "other war" in Viet Nam—the war to win and hold the support of the Vietnamese people.

The appointment of Griffin, a Republican, was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Patrick McNamara, a Democrat.

While Griffin spoke in the Senate, two Democratic primary rivals were on the campaign trail in Michigan. Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh was in Flint, and former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in northern Lower Michigan.

Cavanagh and Williams are seeking the Democratic nomination to oppose Griffin for McNamara's former Senate seat from November until the end of the year and for the new six-year term starting in January.

In his prepared remarks, Griffin said his visit to Viet Nam convinced him that in the final analysis, to win the war, "a nation must be rebuilt out of the chaos, confusion and corruption left in the wake of 25 years of continuous strife and conflict."

Griffin, a member of the House for more than nine years, was in Viet Nam on a five-day fact finding mission by a House subcommittee when Romney appointed him to the Senate.

On his return, he said there was mismanagement of the Agency for International Development program and profiteering.

Oxford Plans Pulp And Paper Plant; 500 Jobs

MUNISING — Harold H. Chisholm, president of the Oxford Paper Co., New York City, today announced that Oxford is seriously studying the possibility of building a pulp and paper mill in Munising, based on the wood holdings of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co.

Chisholm's statement was made at a joint press conference with Gov. George Romney, attended legislative leaders in Lansing. The mill would initially produce 400 tons a day of hardwood and softwood bleached kraft pulp, with paper-making facilities capable of producing Oxford's current grades.

It would employ around 500 persons.

CCI's wood holdings consist of approximately 340,000 acres of both hardwood and softwood timber.

Ready In 1969

In addition to Cleveland Cliff's land, Oxford would require a substantial amount of wood from federal, state and private holdings.

If all the problems can be resolved, Chisholm said, it is expected that the mill would be completed in late 1969.

Chisholm cited the need for financial assistance as a major requirement and said that he hopes Michigan would have enabling legislation available to permit industrial revenue bond financing for approximately $70 million in the first phase of this project.

The entire project will cost about $100 million, he added.

Chisholm briefed Romney and the legislative leaders on the background of the Oxford Paper Co., saying that the company operates mills in Maine, Massachusetts and Ohio; the Nashwaak Pulp & Paper Co. in Massachusetts; the Oxford Miami Paper Co. in Ohio, and the main mill of Oxford Paper Co. at Rumford, Maine.

Fine Paper Maker

It is a major producer of fine papers and is the largest producer of book publishing papers in the world. Among its customers is Geographic magazine.

The company's annual sales are between $85 and $95 million.

Chisholm expressed his appreciation to Romney for "the abundance of advice, information and assistance that has been made available from Michigan state officials and departments.

Romney today hailed the prospect of a major new industry for the Upper Peninsula and pledged cooperation of the state in securing a final decision by Oxford Paper Co.

The governor's statement came in response to the announcement by Chisholm that his firm is giving "serious consideration" to building a pulp and paper mill in Munising.

Prepare Welcome

"I know Oxford Paper Co. wants to come to Michigan," Romney said "and I know we want them here. I am confident necessary decisions can be made which will insure the addition of this firm to Michigan's economic family.

The governor praised the state legislature and particularly its Northern Michigan members for their initiative in securing a pledge of action later this year to amend the industrial development revenue bond act.

"The amendment would increase Michigan's appeal to new industry such as Oxford Paper," Romney stated.

Romney noted, however, that act is currently before the Michigan Supreme Court in a test of its constitutionality. "We are hopeful the legality of the bond program will be resolved in the near future," he said.

Long Effort

Romney pointed out that the interest of the Oxford Paper Co. in locating in the Upper Peninsula is the result of many months of work culminating in a major effort this week to clear the way for today's announcement.

He said he met personally with officials of the company

Teen-Age Voting Goes On Ballots

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's over-21 voters will be asked this fall to decide whether 18-year-olds should be granted the franchise.

A resolution to put before the people what would be the first amendment to the state's 18-month-old Constitution cleared the Legislature Wednesday on a 79-23 vote.

It passed the Senate with the necessary two-thirds majority last April.

With a deadline bearing down on them and such questions as a legislative pay raise and the 1966-67 budget yet to be resolved, the House took time out Wednesday night to consider two amendment proposals.

The other, a change to allow a state or local graduated income tax, failed on a vote of 72-26—two short of the 74 needed for a two-thirds majority in the House.

The resolution is still alive, however. It was reconsidered and placed back on the House calendar. If the three Republican yes votes cast Wednesday hold firm, House Democrats could get the measure through.

Only absenteeism in Democratic ranks prevented it from getting approval. If passed, however, it would have to muster a two - thirds vote in the Senate.

The Legislature also voted the session its third lease on life this month — extending the time for resolving of House - Senate differences from midnight Wednesday to 4 p.m. today.

Democrats generally contend a graduated income tax is necessary for fiscal reform. Republicans have been arguing that reform is possible under the flat - rate income tax concept.

Violence Flares Again In March

BENTON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi march to promote Negro voter registration fanned out on several fronts today following reports of another gunfire-explosive incident Wednesday night.

At Canton, which is in the line of march, Police chief Dan Thompson said a bomb went off near civil rights headquarters Wednesday night.

A white man was shot, and a Negro leader, C. O. Chinn, was arrested, Thompson said.

The white man was not identified, nor was the extent of his injury available.

Canton is about 25 miles southeast of this march headquarters.

Plans for a rally Friday in Philadelphia, Miss., where three civil rights workers were slain three years ago, occupied the time and energies of most march leaders.

For the rank and file, headed down Miss. 16, Canton — site of several civil rights struggles in the past — loomed just ahead.

Lawyers sought swift court action on a petition for a federal injunction to forbid interference with the rally in Philadelphia, a Ku Klux Klan stronghold.

The march will supply about 75 persons for the Philadelphia rally. They will be handpicked for their devotion to the principle of nonviolence and driven to the town in autos. Philadelphia is about 70 miles eat of Benton.

Hosea Williams, a march leader, said federal court also was asked to order police protection for the rally, to be led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Floyd B. McKissick.

Draft Blasted As Antiquated By Schweiker

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of a House committee examining the military draft charged today that methods used by the Selective Service System are as antiquated as a "horse and buggy in a jet age."

The comments of Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., came after Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey told the Armed Services Committee he opposes a centralized computer system to select young men for induction.

Schweiker described Hershey's opposition as a "fetish." The committee member advocated "national standards and a national pool of registrants," claiming present procedures "are way behind times."

"We have no national standards now," he said in an interview. "We have 4,000 individual boards, each determining its own policy of who will be drafted and who will be deferred."

"We should have a national pool. Some boards are drafting fathers, and some are not," Schweiker said.

He criticized as inadequate the 10 days given a registrant to appeal his classification and said "certainly this should be extended to at least 30 days."

Hershey, draft director for 25 years, also told the committee Wednesday he opposes any lottery system for selecting draftees because it only substitutes "chance for judgment."

"Selective Service operates a program critical to the nation's survival," the general said. "The criticism it receives reflects not only the nature of the system's mission, but its urgency and its pace."

Hershey'e testimony opened the hearings, called after congressional critics charged current procedures are inequitable.

Back In Battle, S. Viets Smash Red Battalion

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Back in battle after four months of politicking, South Viet Nam's 1st Army Division ended three days of hard fighting against the Communists today with the destruction of one Red battalion and the crippling of another.

The Vietnamese operation in South Viet Nam's northernmost province was the first major government operation since the Buddhist revolt virtually sidelined the 1st Division four months ago. Stirred up by Buddhist chaplains, many of the division's officers and men openly supported the antigovernment rebellion in the northern provinces.

After fierce fighting ended almost in the shadow of the frontier with North Viet Nam, field commanders said their troops counted 319 Communists killed, 96 captured and 69 weapons seized. Their own losses were light, they said.

U.S. advisers with the 5,000 to 6,000 Vietnamese troops hailed the battle as a major government victory. Said Marine Maj N. E. Andersen of Cranston, R.I., "I think we have just about annihilated a full battalion." A Communist battalion has about 500 men.

Home Rule Bill Passes Senate

LANSING (AP)— The Senate approved a $3.5 million program of tuition grants for students at private colleges and universities in Michigan Wednesday night and began final action on the state budget.

With House - Senate disagreements over certain provisions still to be worked out, the state's 1966-67 spending plan was about $965 million, said Sen. Garland Lane, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Senators also approved a county home rule bill and bills to tighten regulation of cemeteries Wednesday night.

In each case, the Senate was acting on compromise bills worked out by House - Senate conference committees. The committee proposals still await final House approval.

Senators withheld immediate effect from the tuition grant measure. This, said Senate Minority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, would give Gov. George Romney a chance to ask the Michigan Supreme Court for an advisory opinion on whether the bill is constitutional — if Romney decides to sign the bill, that is.

Major Breakthrough Aids War On Malaria

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army medical researchers reported today a major breakthrough in the fight against malaria, next to the Viet Cong the most savage enemy American troops face in Viet Nam.

A spokesman for the surgeon general's office said diaminodiphenylsulfone (DDS), a drug long used in treating leprosy, was found in Viet Nam field tests to cut in half the number of men who are stricken by malaria.

Soldiers who receive the drug but still come down with the disease should be able to return to duty in two or three weeks, instead of the present six to eight weeks. Chances of a relapee should be slashed from 40 per cent to 4 per cent.

Five Per Cent Stricken

Last year 1,801 U.S. troops were stricken by malaria with 63,035 man days lost. The latest complete monthly figures which fluctuate widely show that one of every 20 men could expect to be stricken during their one year tour.

The drug has been approved by the armed forces epidemiological board and the Food and Drug Administration, the spokesman said. Use of the drug by all U.S. troops in danger areas is expected soon. Stockpiles of DDS already are on hand in Viet Nam.

Severe Form

The drug is aimed specifically at falciparum, which drugs now in use are virtually helpless to prevent. Falciparum, a severe form of malaria, is restricted to the Vietnamese highlands.

A less serious strain of malaria, vivax, is under almost full control in Viet Nam with presently used drugs.

A top figure in the research section of the surgeon general's office said even though the number of cases should be halved with the use of DDS, the figure still was too high "and we certainly haven't whipped this thing yet."

Senate Cuts Pay Boost To $2,500

LANSING (AP)—The Senate, which earlier had approved a $5,000 pay raise for legislators, agreed Wednesday night to a compromise $2,500 boost — but even that appeared to face stiff opposition in the House.

The compromise, recommended by a House-Senate conference committee, would raise lawmakers' annual salaries from $10,000 to $12,500, leaving their expense money at $2,500 a year. The raise would go into effect for next year's Legislature.

It passed the Senate with four votes to spare—23-8.

Meanwhile, a $9,500 raise for State Appeals Court judges—to $32,500—was on its way to Gov. George Romney and an equal boost for Supreme Court justices --to $35,000—was expected to win legislative approval. It already has passed the Senate.

Seven Republicans and one Democrat voted against the legislative pay raise. Six senators did not vote, although Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said later he would have voted "no" if he had been present.

"I think I earned it," said Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair. "If everyone else can get a cost of living increase, why can't we?"

Legislators last raised their pay in 1964. Backers of a raise this year point out that the next chance to boost pay will be in 1971, since a raise can take effect only at the beginning of a legislator's term.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, who voted against the pay raise, noted that a study commission recommended a $5,000 raise, but suggested that the Legislature improve its procedures.

The improvements should be adopted first, not the pay raise, he told newsmen.

Add $1 To Cost Of Driver Permit

LANSING (AP) — You have to pay an extra dollar to renew your driver's license next year—to make sure that more new drivers are well trained.

Renewals would cost $4 and a first license $5.50.

The House agreed Wednesday to Senate amendments to a bill guaranteeing Michigan school districts $30 for each student enrolled in driver education programs.

School districts now are allowed $25, but because the teen population is growing faster than the number of driver licenses and renewals, they receive only $18 to $22.50 per student.

The increase in fees will give the schools an estimated $1.75 million a year, said sponsor George Montgomery, D-Detroit, "or almost a 50 per cent increase for many schools."

$8 Million Estate

CHICAGO (AP) — Edwin J. Brach, board chairman of the E. J. Brach & Sons Co., left an estate valued at $8,668,351, an inheritance tax return filed in Circuit Court showed.

DURING A VISIT to the Holy Land, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hismeh of Horse Cave, Ky., vowed that if their next child was a boy, they would dress him as a Franciscan friar for a year, in accordance with a custom in their native Jordan. Alfred, now 17 months old, has been wearing the robe for almost a year but here he is shown encountering a new experience — his first haircut. It was quite an ordeal despite reassurances from his mother. (AP Wirephoto)

Special Tables Help Retarded

The Delta County Retarded Children's Association will present four quadruple stand-in tables designed to accommodate 16 children to the Children's Unit at Newberry State Hospital.

Tables were constructed by association members at a fraction of purchase costs after the group learned that state funds were not available for purchase of the needed tables. The group learned of the need through correspondence with Children's Unit staff members.

Normal cost of the tables, if purchased, would be about $300. The association built them for about $65 each.

Displayed At Meet

The tables went on display today at the 15th annual Conference of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children at Northern Michigan University, Marquette. They will be taken to Newberry when the conference ends Saturday.

Four feet square and 40 inches high, each table has four "pockets' 'to accept a child. Each pocket has an adjustable floor to allow children of all heights to use them. Adjustable backs are also built into the units, which are finished in Easter Egg colors.

Tops of the tables all have heavy vinyl, non-glare coverings of assorted colors and a built up edge to contain toys. Edges are rounded for safety and the entire table is easily washable.

Association members spent five weeks working evenings and weekends to complete the tables.

Gifts Finance

Purpose of the tables is to allow children to get up and work with their hands, rather than be confined to beds and cribs all day.

"The making of these items is only possible with the generous help of many clubs and individuals who earmark their gifts to be used for the children at Newberry and the Association greatly welcomes these gifts so all retarded children can be given the best possible help and care," a spokesman for the club said. "Anyone desiring to help may contact the Association or mail gifts to Box 157, Escanaba."

THESE SPECIAL tables built by the Escanaba Chapter of the Michigan Retarded Children's Association will be sent to the Children's Unit at Newberry State Hospital. The tables have a "pocket" on each side in which children are placed to play on the table. (Daily Press Photo)

Northside Bus To Beach Start Planned July 5

The "but to the beach" program for northside children will begin July 5, it was announced today.

Earlier start of the program, which is supported each summer by service clubs and residents, is not possible because of inavailability of a bus.

Bus and driver from the program are provided by the Escanaba Area Board of Education. Each child who plans to use the service, must register to be covered by insurance. Blanks were mailed to northside residents this week.

Extra blanks are available from George Nelson, a member of the Social Ministry committee of Christ the King Lutheran Church, at Nelson's Cash Store, 1329 Sheridan Rd. The church, under Rev. Erland E. Carlson, has worked actively in support of the program.

The beach bus will leave the Webster School daily at 1:15 and 1:45 p. m. and leave the beach for the return trip at 4 and 4:30 p. m. An employe of the City Recreation Dept. will supervise children while they are waiting for the bus.

How To Sign For Medicare

"The best time to apply for medicare is in the 3 months before the month in which you reach age 65," says Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba. "This is true even if you are still working full-time or even if you have never worked under social security."

Williams explained that there are limited periods in which anyone may apply for medicare. The first of these is the period of 7 calendar months during which you reach age 65, the 3 months before the month in which your 65th birthday falls, your birth month and the 3 following months.

However, the complete protection of medicare can only begin with the month you become 65 only if you have signed up before that month. If you delay filing, the supplemental medical insurance may not take effect as much as 6 months after age 65. If you do not apply in the 7 month enrollment period, you face a loss of medical insurance protection for as long as 2 years, and a higher premium.

The 7 month enrollment period applies only to the medical insurance part of medicare. This protection costs each person $3 a month and the federal government contributes a matching amount. The other half of the medicare health insurance package is hospital insurance. There is no monthly premium to pay on the hospital insurance which goes into effect with the month you are 65 providing you do not delay more than a yeor to apply.

Williams emphasized that medicare is available to people who are age 65 and over, even though they continue to work, and for that reason cannot receive monthly social security benefits. Applying for medicare at age 65 and continuing to work will have no adverse effect on social security benefits since the social security law provides that earnings after age 65 will still be considered in figuring the amount of your monthly benefit.

Job Corps Aid On Park Urged

WASHINGTON — In testimony before the House Subcommittee on National Parks, Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger proposed that job corpsmen help develop the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore.

There is presently a Job Corps Conseravtion Center, "Ojibway," near Marenisco in the southwest part of the Upper Peninsula. A Women's Job Corps Center is scheduled to open soon near Marquette, under the sponsorship of Northern Michigan Univeristy.

Clevenger's statement also pointed out that since the Committee hearing in Marquette last Oct. 5, "the differences that existed then have been resolved by the U. S. Park Service, the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., the owners of other private land interests, and the U. S. Forest Service.

"These should all be commended for the spirit of cooperation they demonstrated in order to bring this park closer to reality.

"With these differences resolved," Clevenger continued, "I urge that you act as quickly as possible to approve H. R. 8678."

Radio, Television Priest To Address Clerks Today

Fr. Hugh Michael Beahan, director of radio and television for the Catholic Diocese of Grand Rapids and an accomplished public speaker, will address the annual banquet session of the Michigan Municipal Clerk's Association at 7:30 p.m. today at the House of Ludington.

A native of Ionia, Mich., Fr. Beahan attended St. Peter and Paul Academy at Ionia, Lowell, Mich., high school and St. Joseph's Seminary in Grand Rapids. He spent his final six years at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Md., and was ordained to the priesthood in 1947.

Besides his current radio and television directorship, Fr. Beahan is president and general manager of radio station WXTO-FM, Grand Rapids, chaplain of the Kent County Juvenile Home and a member of the Aquinas College faculty.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Grand Rapids Urban League, Kent County Mental Health Board and the Diocesan Ecumenical Commission. He is the recipient of the Silver Benn Award from the Catholic Broadcasters Association.

Narrates Programs

Currently, Fr. Beahan produces and narrates the television mass for three TV stations every Sunday and is also the "Father Michael" of the Grand Rapids "Fifteen With Father" telecast Sunday afternoons.

Public speaking engagements for Fr. Beahan average from four to seven weekly and he has also appeared on the network television programs "What's My Line," "To Tell The Truth" and "Look Up and Live."

The Clerk's Convention moved into its second day of sessions this morning with an address on elections by Don Strong, Doubleday Bros., dealing with new laws and absent voters ballots.

Lloyd S. Hendon, first vice president of the association of Flint, will be toastmaster for tonight's banquet. Invocation will be given by Fr. A. J. Mayotte, assistant pastor of St. Anne's Church in Escanaba.

Historic Area

Wednesday, Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, spoke to the luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington.

Fr. Hugh Michael Beahan

"You are now in the place that has the most fresh water in the World," Worth told the municipal officers. "The Upper Peninsula is washed by Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron. No other area anywhere is so immensely bounded by that most precious natural resource in the world — fresh water."

Worth said that before the Revolutionary War the French and Indian War was fought here, that it was a part of New France for 141 years, then British two decades and it had been American only 36 years when the British came back and recaptured it in the War of 1812.

The Peninsula is amazing unspoiled, said Worth and still has an Indian population of more than 2,000. "Father Louis Cappo was head of a War on Poverty project in the U.P. and had it rejected," said Worth "because it wasn't integrated. When he asked if integrated Indians would do he was told no. 'We had to import a Negro from one of our air bases so we could satisfy the government!' " said Father Cappo.

The Peninsula's image to the south, said Worth, is one of arctic climate, but actually, he said Escanaba gets less snow than northern Lower Michigan and the state's cold record — 53 degrees below zero — was set in the Lower Peninsula, not the Upper Peninsula."

Legal Institute Begins Friday

About 50 attorneys and their wives from the Upper Peninsula are expected in Escanaba Friday and Saturday for the "Upper Peninsula Legal Institute," according to Louis J. Gregory, president of the host Delta County Bar Association.

The program will begin at noon Friday with a luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington for attorneys and a luncheon and style show program for the ladies at the Escanaba County Club.

Main speaker for the 7 p. m. banquet Friday at the House of Ludington is Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Attorneys will be welcomed at noon by Gregory and John S. Clark, State Bar Association president.

Topics for discussion in the two day program include, "Products Liability;" "Protecting Your Client's Right to Payment out of the State Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund;" "What's New In Workman's Compensation," and the "Legal Service Program for the Upper Peninsula."

The "Products Liability" discussion from 2 to 5 p. m. Friday will be led by Dean A. Robb of Goodman, Crockett, Eden, Robb & Philo of Detroit, and Robert E. Rutt of Ward, Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt and Peacock, Detroit. Robb will debate from the plaintiff's point of view and Rutt for the defendent.

Hugh B. Anderson, Assistant Attorney General and counsel to the Motor Vehicle Claims Fund, Lansing, will discuss the Claims Fund payment system at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Workman's compensation discussion at 10 a. m. will be led by Vincent McAuliffe, chairman of the Workman's Compensation Appeal Board, and John W. Cummiskey, past president of the State Bar, will head a roundtable discussion of U. P. legal services at 11 a. m.

Luncheon Saturday will be on the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Mesquite.

Travel Editors Visit Mine

U.P. Industrial Gains Seen

MARQUETTE — Midwestern travel editors got a look at the Empire Mine, Northern Michigan University campus, Presque Isle Park and other tourist attractions in Marquette County on a quickie tour Wednesday afternoon.

The tour followed a luncheon meeting at the Northwoods Restaurant west of Marquette, where the editors were briefed on Upper Peninsula iron ore mining history and the growth of NMU.

The Marquette County stop was one of several to be made by the editors during their three-day tour of the Upper Peninsula under the auspices of the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress, Operation Action—U. P. and the Upper Michigan Tourist Association.

Traveling aboard a North Central Airlines executive plane, the group also stopped at Menominee, Escanaba, Mackinac Island and Sault Ste. Marie Tuesday, at Marquette and Ironwood Wednesday and were scheduled to complete its trip today in Houghton.

A highlight of the tour was the announcement of a Michigan State University master plan for development of recreation industry in the U. P. The master plan is the result of a two- year effort on the part of MSU, UMTA, EDA, and some private development firms.

Mining Rebirth

Ogden Johnson, Ishpeming, director of industrial relations for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., was master of ceremonies for the luncheon meeting. He traced developments in the iron ore industry, emphasizing the role research and private capital have played in keeping Lake Superior district ores competitive with foreign ores.

"In 1952, there were 32 underground iron ore mines in Michigan," Johnson said. "Today there are only eight."

But now, Johnson said, Cleveland-Cliffs is operating five pelletizing properties on the Marquette Range and is employing more than 3,000 persons in its mines here because it was able to shift from underground mining to open pit mining producing concentrated pellets high in iron content and capable of competing with foreign ore.

Since 1954, he stated, $175,000,000 in private capital has been invested in iron mining plants on the Marquette Range, "and we visualize more to follow."

Education's Role

Ken Dorman, Iron Mountain, executive secretary of UMTA, reviewed the history of mining in the Upper Peninsula and credited Cleveland-Cliffs with having played a major role in preparing the way for the proposed establishment of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore in Alger County.

Dr. Claud Bosworth, Marquette, vice president of NMU, reported on Northern's public service activities. Among them he listed credit and non-credit field courses; correspondence courses; programs in tourism, law enforcement, banking, etc.; management development; practical nursing; labor education-leadership training; conference facilities (approximately 200 conferences involving 35,000 people on campus each year); community services and anti-poverty and economic opportunity programs, including an area training center, Volunteers in Service to America training, Head Start project training, work-study program and a Women's Job Corps Center to be established on campus next week.

Universities To Get Millions

WASHINGTON — Facilities and equipment grants totaling $3,216,265 have been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for four Upper Michigan colleges and universities, according to Congresman Raymond Clevenger.

Recipient of the largest amount was Michigan Tech at Houghton, which was awarded $1 million for the undergraduate portion of a $5.8 million chemistry and biological science building, and $423,333 toward construction of a $1.3 million forestry building.

Last week, a $1 million grant was awarded for graduate portions of the science building.

Northern Michigan University at Marquette will receive $1 million toward construction of a $5.4 million learning resources center. Work on the building is expected to begin in a month

Last of the grants awarded under the Higher Education Facilities Act is $263,266 to Suomi College at Hancock for construction of an $800,000 physical education facility. Construction is scheduled to start in nine months, and require a year.

Suomi also will receive $12,304 under the Higher Education Act of 1965, for acquisition of laboratory and other special equipment a ndmaterials, Clevenger reported.

Violators, Beware!

John Anguilm, who went from the Upper Peninsula after a distinguished career with the State Conservation Department here to the headquarters of the Department at Lansing as chief of its law enforcement, is a member of the "Upper Peninsula Mafia" which infiltrated Department headquarters in its period of reform.

With his background and knowledge of game law violations, it is specially interesting to read Anguilm's comments on what he interprets as changing public regard for the game laws. This has been a hope of conservationists for many years, and there has been some progress in this matter, but things could only improve. There wasn't much cooperation when free hunting ended.

There are still such gross miscarriages of justice in the freeing of poachers caught bloody-fingered and with the deer in the car — "Sure don't know how it got in there!" — that it's obvious that the war of conservation hasn't been won yet in the law enforcement division, but it's good to hear from anyone as informed as John Anguilm that the skirmishing now favors the Good Guys.

* * *

There are changes in other factors of the conservation law problem besides public respect, including the laws themselves. They're changing. Michigan, says Anguilm is "at the bottom of the barrel when it comes to fines and imprisonment for deer law violators." His office surveyed 20 other states and all charge convicted deer violators more than Michigan's maximum of a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail. Several charge up to $1,000 for deer shining and some states confiscate cars and weapons and impose jail sentences up to a year. The average fine for shining in the 20 states is $300.

There's a bill in the Michigan Legislature that would raise Michigan's fine for an elk violation to $300 and make the $100 fine mandatory in deer shining cases. The $100 fine is the present maximum and it's seldom applied. Usually deer shiners in Michigan are fined $30 or $50, plus court costs. Sometimes their weapons are forfeited, but not usually.

* * *

"This is really little more than a slap on the wrist," says Anguilm. He says Michigan penalties are too light to keep a violator from repeating and as a result conservation officers have to work hard to get a court case, and often with very little result.

So he hopes the Legislature toughens the penalties. The changing public attitude about protection of game law violators may be a better hope for improvement than tougher laws, although both are needed.

The tourist and recreation business is one of the Upper Peninsula's most promising possibilities for economic growth. A part of its realization will come with recognition of the cash value of the U. P.'s natural beauty and history, and another part of its realization will come with public intolerance of the poachers who destroy the wildlife that our pay-to-play visitors come to see and to hunt.

The cases of public cooperation with game law enforcement officers in Michigan increase, says Anguilm. We're growing up. And we're recognizing that if there's to be wildlife under the changing conditions of increased population and shrinking wildlife range, there must be orderly harvest under the law and not a public conspiracy to let a small group steal the people's game.

Ann Landers

Boot Kissing Is Not Popularity Key

Dear Ann Landers: I sent for your booklet, "The Key To Popularity," and I wish you would stop telling your readers that the way to be popular is to knock yourself out to please people.

A young man I know rather well is perfect proof that your theory is for the bobolinks. This fellow is forever bringing gifts to the office. He sends get-well cards, flowers, bon voyage presents, welcome-home presents, and congratulatory telegrams for promotions.

He gives up his lunch hour running errands and doing favors. He compliments the women on their clothes, their hairdos, their makeup. He laughs at the men's jokes and hands over a full pack of ciragettes when all that was asked for was one. Yesterday he almost set fire to my nose in an attempt to light my ciragette before someone else did. I felt like saying, "Relax, Son. I like you. I like you."

No one in the office could (or would) say a bad word about "Mrs. Him To Please" but no one really likes him either. Have I made myself clear? —TOOOOOOOOO MUCH

Dear Toooo - ooooo: You've made yourself clear. But apparently I didn't make MYSELF clear.

There's a world of difference between being thoughtful and considerate and behaving like an obsequious, boot-licking, hem-kissing sycophant.

The pathetic young man you describe is woefully insecure and he feels terribly inadequate. He is not interested in others. He is interested only in getting the approval of others —and it shows.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in desperate need of advice and I'm not sure you can print my letter. I hope you can get it in the paper somehow because I can't receive any mail on this subject.

I am a 17-year old gril who would rather spend time with girls and older women than with boys. I especially like the company of my teathers. I have seen three teachers socially in the past year. We have gone to concerts together, horseback riding and to the movies.

Do you think I am a homosexual? I am scared to death that I am. Nothing out of the way has ever occurred but it doesn't seem normal for a girl to be so disinterested in boys and to be so fond of women.

I could never discuss this with my parents so please don't suggest it. If you feel I need psychiatric help I will consider it although I don't know how I would explain it to my folks. They think I am wonderfully balanced and well-adjusted.

Please help me. — SOUL IN TURMOIL

Dear Soul: Just because a 17-year-old girl prefers the company of women does not mean that she is a homosexual. Some people, both male and female, don't become interested in the opposite sex until they are out of high school.

If you are deeply concerned about yourself I suggest that you do talk to a psychiatrist. Tell your parents you are in need of specialized information, not therapy. A couple of visits could set your mind at ease.

State Braces For New Era

Water Pollution War Starting

LANSING — Within four years, an estimated $200 to $300 million — perhaps more — will be spent by municipalities and industries along the Detroit River and on Michigan's portion of Lake Erie in one of the nation's most massive efforts to reduce and control water pollution.

In addition, more than 130 communities throughout Michigan, plus an undetermined number of industries, will have to sharply limit pollution of state waters within the next few years — or face action in court.

The story of this sweeping program to fight dirty water and the developments behind it are told in the May-June issue of Michigan Conservation by Gerald E. Eddy, chairman of the Water Resources Commission (WRC), a division of the Conservation Department.

* * *

He predicts that the time schedule for these changes will almost certainly be met.

"Dramatic and significant as this sounds, both Congress and the people of Michigan are determined that action match the present set of laws which demand this change," Eddy stressed.

Reflecting this mandate for action is a new federal law which says that every state must sharply reduce its pollution of interstate waters, or the federal government will step in to see that the job is done.

Michigan's interstate waters include the Detroit River and a portion of Lake Erie; the Maumee River headwaters which flow into Ohio; the St. Joseph River which flows into Indiana; and the Upper Peninsula's Menomine and Montreal rivers which border on Wisconsin.

* * *

Governor Romney, the Legislature, the Conservation Commission and Department, the Departments of Health, Highway, and Agriculture gave strong support to, and worked for passage of, this federal law, known simply as the Water Quality Act of 1965.

In addition, last year's session of the Michigan Legislature strengthened the basic state law so that the WRC can now demand that an industry or municipality reduce its pollution or face early court action.

Prior to passage of this new law, the WRC had to prove in court that any pollution was "willful." Now it has only to show that pollution, as newly defined, is occurring, whether willful or not.

Any municipality or industry that dumps polluting materials into public waters thus is violating state law.

Of the large number of bills passed into state law by the Michigan Legislature during its 1965 session, this one act stands as one of the most important legislative decisions of this decade, declares Eddy.

* * *

But can municipalities and industries live up to the law? "Definitely," says Eddy, who points out that new methods of water treatment have been and ar being developed which now make it possible to use water, treat it, and return it to its sources almost in its original condition.

This is not to say that pollution control is going to come cheap. Unquestionably, there will be some hardship cases where the existing tax base and bonded indebtedness of small cities, villages and townships will make sewage treatment costly to the individual taxpayer.

On the other hand, Eddy notes: "Methods that formerly were far too costly are now within reach of most municipalities and industries. Officials in charge of such units now may have a difficult time explaining to the public why such pollution should not be controlled."

* * *

The time schedule for the Detroit River and Lake Erie work was set down in a series of orders approved by the WRC early this year. In recent weeks, 36 Detroit area municipalities, industries, and governmental units have agreed to meet strict new water quality standards under terms spelled out in these orders.

Some of the orders call for construction and use of water treatment equipment no later than April 1, 1967. Most call for completion and use of equipment during 1967 and 1968.

Michigan has 1,254 townships, 280 villages and 240 cities, and the WRC already has plans to meet with representatives of about 130 of these units of government.

On Sept. 29-30, the WRC will meet at Iron Mountain for communities in Upper Peninsula river basins.

* * *

There is no way to accurately forecast what this program will mean in terms of new costs. Each municipality and industry will have to develop its own best effort, according to Eddy.

Conceivably, in Detroit, the price of water for the average householder may double as a result of this program. For some industries, the added costs will be only nominal, while others will have to install very expensive equipment. Such costs will, of course, be passed along to the final consumer.

"We will all pay for clean water," notes Eddy. "But then," he adds, "we will all benefit from clean water."

Congress has voted dollars aids to this work. The new federal law covering interstate waters provides $380 million in aid to communities throughout the nation to control pollution of interstate waters.

Because the Great Lakes are the nation's most important interstate waterway, the biggest share of that aid may come to Great Lakes communities.

Victory Eludes Cong

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — "Despite our increased air power and military victories in Viet Nam, the Viet Cong control about the same amount of territory they held a year ago in our province," said the man just in from a district on the Cambodian border.

"In our province, the government holds about 100 hamlets, the Viet Cong about 80 and around 60 or so are disputed and belong to whoever has a patrol out that day.

"Yet it's certain Viet Cong morale is going down. There are around 80 VC deserters a month now in our province, compared with around 20 a month a year back.

"These men, when you talk to them, sound discouraged.

* * *

"Yet the Viet Cong are not short of weapons or ammunition. They bring it in across the Cambodian border by trail of water or in by boat along the seacoast. I know the Navy says these routes are closed. They stop large numbers of fishing boats. A lot of fishermen must get stopped two or three times a day each.

"But most inspections are perfunctory. The inspectors don't know what's really down in the bottom of the boats.

"The VC seem to have enough food. They're even sending rice out to Cambodia. Chinese and North Vietnamese products are smuggled in readily across the borders for sale on the black markets.

"Their guerrilla troops move in an out of Cambodia freely.

* * *

But things aren't going so well inside VC territory—in the hamlets they control. They have upped the rice tax on the farmers to something over 50 per cent and that isn't setting well.

"The men in the guerrilla units are finding it more difficult to get back to the hamlets in government hands at night to see their families.

"The guerrillas who defect say the constant bombing keeps them on the move and they don't have enough time to rest.

"They were led to expect victory and it hasn't come. They're getting war-weary.

"'In talking to them, you get the feeling they believe they've been let down by their leadership.

"The Viet Cong defecting where I am average out in their mid-twenties. More teenagers are coming in—a lot of 15-year-olds. Most of our VC defectors have been in for less than two or three years

"I think the time is ripe to move in hard politically on the Viet Cong territory in our province. But the government teams sent out thus far to reconvert the VC and contested hamlets to the government side so far have mostly failed.

"They turn in optimistic reports. Then they move on to another hamlet and the one they just left drops back into VC hands. Their reports are just so much paper.

"Sometimes the teams don't move out to the contested hamlets. They stay at the district town and go out by day to the hamlets they're supposed to be winning over. But that isn't enough.

"I hope that with the new training these teams are now getting, things will go better. It's too early to tell.

"But if this doesn't work, then something else will. Now is the time to strike in our province—when the VC are discouraged."

Restore Banners

LANSING (AP)—A group of 19 Civil War regimental banners were returned to display cases in the Capitol Rotunda this week after being repaired and restored. Some 150 of the tattered and battle-torn Civil War flags have been restored since the project was started by the State Historical Commission in 1963.

The Doctor Says:

Drugs Help Diarrhea

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Turista is the diarrhea of travelers. It is also called the Aztec two-step, Delhi belly, Montezuma's revenge, Gyppy tummy and the GI trots.

Like the common cold, it has many causes, most of them obscure. Since it is often due to some difference between the composition of the water you are used to and the local supply, you can get it when you travel to a resort less than 100 miles from your home as well as when you visit foreign soil.

In some cases the cause is thought to be the introduction of foreign strains of bacteria, harmless to the native population, into the intestinal tract. This assumption is supported by the fact that most victims adjust to it after a few days without any specific treatment. While it lasts, however, it may be incapacitating.

If the diarrhea is severe, paregoric may help you. Take a teaspoonful in half a glass of water, not at regular intervals but after every watery stool. A new drug, diphenoxylate, is also effective. It is available in liquid or tablet form with atropine added (Lomotil) and requires a physician's prescription.

For milder diarrhea, Kaomagma usually gives relief. Sulfathalidine or phthalylsulfathiazole may be taken by persons who know themselves to be susceptible to turista to ward off an attack.

If you are going to a country, especially the tropics, where amebic dysentery is prevalent it is wise to start taking diiodohydroxyquin (Diodoquin) a day or two before your arrival at your destination. It also helps to stick to a bland diet and avoid strange native dishes no matter how highly they are recommended.

Q—What is the best treatment for hyperacidity of the stomach?

A—For relief of the associated heartburn one of the many aluminum hydroxide preparations is best. They are harmless and effective but it is important to determine whether your hyperacidity is caused by a peptic ulcer, gall bladder disease, improper diet or emotional upsets and then treat the cause.

Q—What Algonquian word has come, in American politics, to mean one who bolts his party?

A—Mugwump. The term is generally used derisively.

* * *

Q—What were the first cargoes of tree products exported from America?

A—Sassafras bark collected along the coasts of Maine and Massachusetts was shipped to England in 1603 by a man named Martin Pring. Capt. George Weymouth, in 1605, took to England a load of white pine logs which he cut in Maine, along the Penoobscot and Kennebec Rivers.

It has been suggested . . . that this approach is somehow immoral, that it relieves drivers of responsibility for misconduct, that it excuses them instead of punishing them. I do not agree. It is no more immoral than shaving with a safety razor instead of a straight edge.

Industry's Jobs Go Begging, Too Few Graduating

NEW YORK (AP) — The draft — and the threat of service in Viet Nam — has put a crimp in company recruiting of June college graduates.

An Associated Press survey of company officials and college placement directors found that the draft, the rush to graduate schools and the boom in jobs left recruiters far short of the men they needed.

"This has been one of the toughest years in recent history from the employer's standpoint," said Bill Herman, U.S. Steel Corp. college relations director in Pittsburgh.

Lewis Guthrie, International Business Machines district manager in Miami, said:

"There is a large increase in the number of boys who are going to graduate school to escape the war in Viet Nam. They are very frank about it."

Guthrie said it had cut the number of graduates available at a time when the competition between firms for new men was getting stiffer anyway.

"There were only about 30,000 undergraduate engineering degrees awarded this year, a figure that hasn't changed in recent years," said Robert Becker, manager of professional employment at the Aluminum Company of America, Pittsburgh. "There are fewer people available for more jobs."

Peter Frederickson, Boston University placement counselor, said: "I have a drawer full of unfilled requests, and I understand the same situation prevails in practically all colleges in the country. There are more jobs than qualified youngsters."

"I don't know of any company able to obtain its quota of new men," a spokesman for Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh said.

One reason: industry recruiters must compete with the Peace Corps and VISTA, as well as the military, said Mrs. Nansi Corson of the University of California at Berkeley.

Romney Signs 16 New Laws

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Wednesday signed into law 16 bills including two measures strengthening controls over sale of narcotics.

One measure would limit the amount of narcotic drugs sold at retail without a prescription.

It would make it illegal to sell any person without a prescription more than four fluid ounces of the exempt preparation within 48 hours.

A companion bill deletes a portion of the Narcotics Act which was replaced by a 1964 law controlling the sale of paragoric.

Other bills signed would:

—Amend the State Scholarship Act to allow the Higher Education Assistance Authority to use scholastic achievement as well as competitive examinations in determining award winners.

—Grant intermediate school districts authority, after voter approval, to issue bonds to provide for construction, remodeling or enlarging buildings for vocational training programs.

—Grant a one-year extension, to July 1, 1967, of the date when the State Board of Education may accept federal funds under the Economic Opportunity Act.

—Broaden the act covering fire protection for townships and villages to include cities of less than 15,000 population and prohibit use of the act to decrease the number of fulltime paid firemen.

—Allow townships to contract for fire protection service from private individuals or organizations.

—Clarify the existing provision that community mental health boards may execute contracts with other social service agencies.

—Permit reporting to the Friend of the Court the salary and other income of a person responsible for child support in paternity cases.

—Amend the Drain Code to permit boards of supervisors to include the drain commissioner and his department employes under Social Security.

—Amend the act authorizing counties to maintain and regulate parking lots.

—Amend the Township Act to include garbage and rubbish collection as a public improvement permitting assessing and bonding.

—Specify that a building contract fund be considered a public trust for the benefit of the person making the payment.

—Increase the pay for county juvenile officers.

—Remove the Department of Social Services director from membership on the Commission on Aging.

Bells From Congo On Oregon Trail

ARVADA, Colo. (AP) — Norris Spencer found a pair of bells in a deserted cabin at South Pass, a point on the Oregon Trail in Wyoming.

The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., identified the bells as mourning bells made more than 500 years ago in the lower Congo in Africa.

Curators at the Granite Glen Museum in Evergreen, Colo., which also owns a set of the bells, speculate that the objects got to the United States on a sailing ship and then went west on a wagon train only to be abandoned to lighten the wagon load — the fate of many personal possessions that started the long road west.

Airplane Aids Gospel Spread

DETROIT (AP) — The Seventh-Day Adventists said that their use of the airplane has been a major factor in recent progress with the church gospel in South America.

James J. Aitken of Montevideo, Uruguay, president of the South American Division of Adventists, said missionary planes have been able to penetrate to the interior and jungle areas.

Aitken, reporting to the Adventists' 50th quadrennial world conference, said the church now has 165,000 members in South America, an increase of more than 25,000 since the previous quadrennium.

Approve Bonds

LANSING (AP) — The State Administrative Board has approved the sale of $24.1 million in Detroit freeway bonds at an interest rate of 3.91 per cent.

Bright, Exciting That's The Life!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Burt Lancaster, the millionaire movie actor, zestfully polished off a luncheon order of six cherrystone clams — which were three clams more than he used to earn a week as a circus acrobat.

"I had a happy childhood here — four kids living in a walkup, coldwater railroad flat in East Harlem," he said. "I often doubt if my own kids have as much fun as I did.

"We used to like to play stickball in the streets. Eight times I was knocked down or run over by cars."

Must Take Chances

"It was bright, exciting and dangerous — but all life is, or should be. I don't believe you can create a Utopian society built on total safety. You have to take your chances."

Taking a chance has been a key part of the Lancaster credo ever since he quit college after his sophomore year to see the world while doing backflips and somersaults for a circus.

He also served three years as a GI, and worked as a road laborer, boiler stoker, singing waiter, and department store floorwalker in the lingerie section.

With only an Army good conduct ribbon and three weeks' experience on Broadway, Burt crashed Hollywood — literally. In six months he was making $100,000 a year, now gets $750,000 and more a picture.

Came A Clinker

Most of his 40 films have rung merry tunes on the cash register. But one the critics liked best, "Sweet Smell of Success," a realistic study of the seamy side of night life in Manhattan, proved a clinker at the box office.

In an industry that can be as boring and ego-frustrating as running on a treadmill, Burt still has the happy enthusiasm of a Cub Scout going on his first patrol.

"There is no substitute for curiosity in life," he said. "It is in retreating from life that you are most likely to destroy yourself.

"When you lapse into yourself, you lapse into darkness.

"The only dangerous thing is to lose your enthusiasm. You have to be involved in life to really discover yourself — even if that gives you your biggest wounds as well as your greatest joys."

Rains In India Ending Drought

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The summer monsoon has returned to drought-stricken India, and forecasters expect it to deliver normal rainfall to the hungry country's parched fields and reservoirs.

Last year the monsoon failed and crops withered, threatening the nation of 495 million with a famine. Disaster was prevented only by drastic increase in American shipments of grain to an average of more than a million tons a month.

This year the rains have moved from India's southern tip northward and reached New Delhi Wednesday — the earliest onset of the monsoon since 1961.

"By the end of the month," said Forecaster R.K.S. Saxena, "the monsoon should establish itself over the entire country, west across the Rajasthan Desert to the Pakistan border and north to the Himalayas.

"The indications are that the New Delhi area can expect more or less normal rainfall."

The capital's average rainfall is 26 inches, most of it during the two and a half months of the summer monsoon.

However, weathermen in Bombay report that the monsoon there appears "feeble" and rainfall to date somewhat less than normal.

The onset of the rains means Indian farmers can begin planting their vital wheat and rice crops. But relief from food shortages won't come until after the crops are harvested.

The situation may actually worsen during the monsoon as the rains disrupt transportation in many areas and slow the unloading of grain in ports.

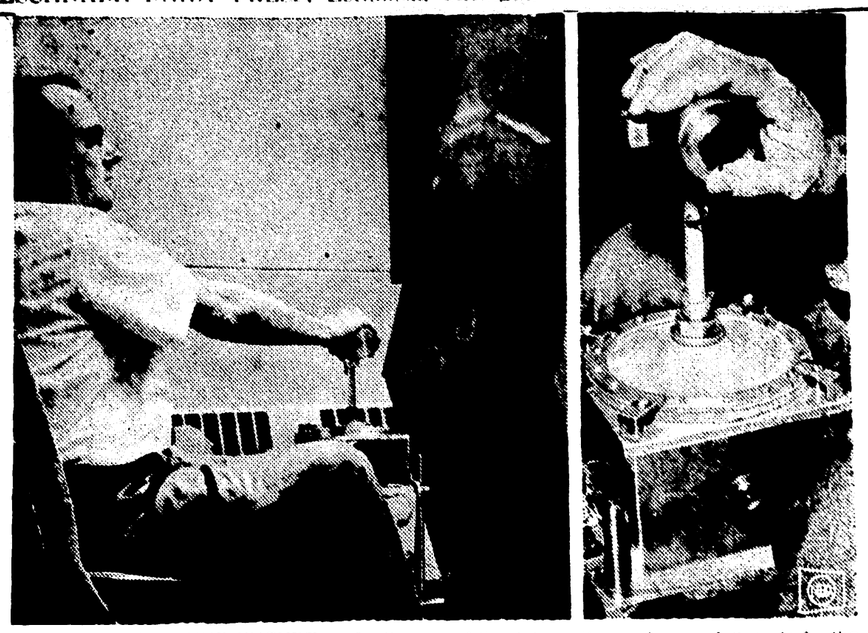
Bark River

T-Sgt. John Levesque, stationed at Kincheloe AFB, was promoted to Master Sergeant last week. Levesque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Levesque of Bark River, graduated from Bark River-Harris High School, and entered service in 1952. He served three and a half years in Okinawa, returning in June, 1965 and has since been stationed at Kincheloe. Levesque is married to the former Dorothy Fritsch of Green Bay and they have four children.

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. George Servia of Iron Mountain are the parents of a son, Michael George, born Monday, June 20, at 10 a.m. in the Dickinson County Memorial Hospital in Iron Mountain. Michael George weighed 9 pounds, 10 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Rosemary Wangles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wangles, Rte. 1, Bark River.

Grover A. Whalen, New York official greeter for many years, was called the founder of ticker tape parades.



STEERING INTO THE FUTURE — In the car of the future, it promises no longer to be the hand on the wheel but on the stick. Seeking ways of developing a crashproof car, automotive safety researchers at Ohio State University have come up with an experimental automatic control system utilizing a metal bar. At left, with a television screen standing in for the windshield, technical assistant Earl Boyer tests the control stick in simulated highway travel. Right, the control bar has a button by thumb to override automatic system should manual control be necessary.

U of M Provides Class Rank Data

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan announced that it would provide the Selective Service System with the class standings of students with draft deferments for a review of classifications this summer.

Allan F. Smith, vice-president for academic affairs, said the ranking would be released unless the university was asked not to by individual students by July 8.

Officials of Michigan State and Wayne State universities are already providing this information, although Wayne State has said it will discontinue the practice after this year.

Enrollment Up

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University opened summer term classes Wednesday with enrollment up by 12 per cent over last summer. More than 11,900 students were enrolled, according to preliminary counts.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Soviets Plan To Make More Cars

MOSCOW (AP)—The automobile civilization seems about to come to the Soviet Union.

Communism will never be the same again if it does. In its way, this is one of the most revolutionary developments in the country since the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

Until now, the Soviet Union has hardly seen what the automobile can do to life. It has been getting along on public transportation.

Whereas there are 374 cars per 1,000 population in the United States and 176 in France, the Soviet Union has only 4 per 1,000.

But the new five-year plan indicates things are going to change. The new Soviet man will find himself confronted with the joys—and horrors—of the automobile era, if the plan in fact foreshadows the future.

During the next five years, auto production is to increase from 200,000 a year to 800,000. Two new plants are to be built. A new small model called the Zima is to be introduced. Cars already being manufactured are to be remodeled. Prices are to be reduced from their present astronomical levels — now about four times higher than in the West.

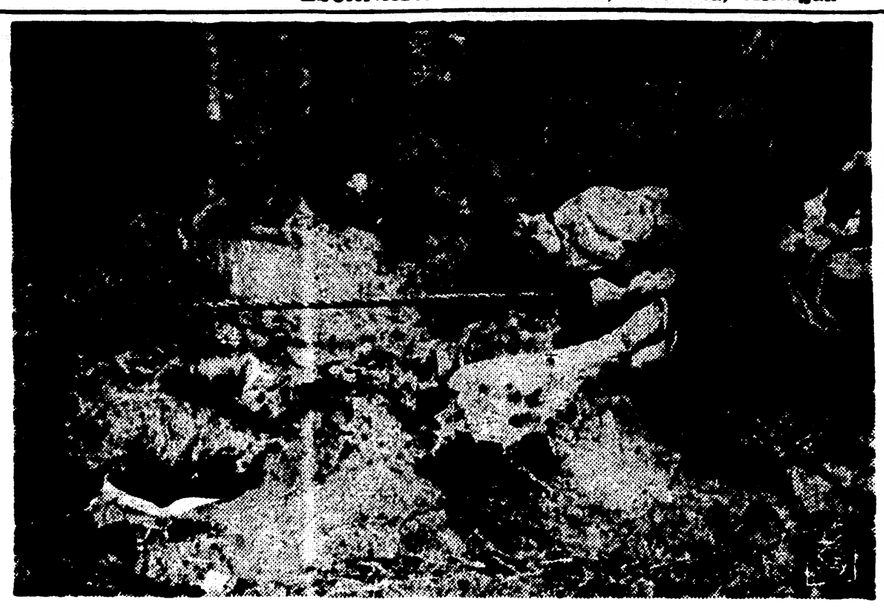
Back in the iron age of Joseph Stalin, the car — the private car, that is — had no place.

Nikita S. Khrushchev came along and started raising living standards, letting the people have more of the national product. Nevertheless, Khrushchev was strongly anti-automobile.

Khrushchev increased public transportation. He saw it not only avoiding the "waste" of private cars, but also the needs they bring with them — parking places, service stations, garages, highways. The whole complex.

Khrushchev's successors, led by Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, in all probability agree with him about the uselessness of the private car, from the old standpoint.

But they are showing a new responsiveness to the wants of the people, who are no longer just the poor, simple masses. Education and prosperity have made for pressure from below.



GLUG — For some strange reason, signs of spring on campuses across the country include a tug-of-war with girls enthusiastically pulling each other through mud-filled trenches to the delight of male onlookers. But few put so much of themselves into the effort as this coed, almost immersed in a battle at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Indiana Dunes Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amendments which would authorize less acreage for the proposed Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore but more beach space were approved Wednesday by the House Interior Committee.

The committee put off a final vote on the measure until next Wednesday, however, when a disagreement arose over whether to reinstate some acreage removed from the bill two weeks ago by an interior subcommittee.

Rep. John Saylor, R-Pa., told a newsman he will try at next week's meeting to have a provision reinstated that would make Pin Hook Bog and an area known as the Tremont Triangle a part of the park.

Saylor predicted he will be be successful. He had the backing today of Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz.

An objection from Rep. Joe Skubitz, R-Kan., resulted in the committee's setting the bill aside until next week. Skubitz voiced the opinion that "it looks like we're throwing in everything that the subcommittee threw out."

In its latest revised form, the bill now provides for inclusion of roughly 9,000 acres in the proposed lakeshore. It would stretch along some 11 miles of beachfront along Lake Michigan between East Gary and Michigan City, Ind.

The committee set a limit of $26,760,000 to pay for land acquisition for the lakeshore.

Only one kind of bear, the Atlas bear, is found in Africa.

GI Bill Is Making History Teacher Of Car Salesman

EAST LANSING (AP)—The new GI bill is making a history teacher out of an auto salesman. After five years away from a classroom, he started college, somewhat nervously, as a freshman Wednesday.

Ronald Harrison, 24, Michigan State University's first student supported by the new GI bill, started in on the basic courses with a group of mostly 18- and 19-year-olds, fresh out of high school.

"It's going to be rough," he said. "It has been five years since I've been in any type of academic program."

But, Harrison added, it also is easier in a way because, after four years in the Air Force, he knows what he wants and has plenty of motivation.

"I have three people in Williamston depending on me," he said, referring to his wife, Roxie, and daughters, Robin 3½, and Rebecca, 6 months. They rent a home in Williamston, not far from the giant MSU campus. Mrs. Harrison is not employed, he said.

The change from auto salesman to student means some financial sacrifices for the family, he noted, and "without the GI bill I never would have gone to college full time.

"I probably would have stayed in the automobile business, and taken a few business courses," said Harrison.

He'd rather be teaching because education is a "fascinating, ever-changing field." He also likes to sit down and talk with people.

"I've been following the progress of the GI bill for two years," he added. In Harrison's case, it pays $150 a month for tuition, books and other expenses.

The bill went into effect June 1 and Harrison rushed right over to MSU.

He wanted a chance to get reacquainted with classroom work with fewer students around. MSU has about 11,000 students enrolled in its summer session, compared with 38,500 expected next fall.

Harrison was graduated from East Lansing High School in 1960, but didn't feel he was ready for college then.

"I wanted to see the world, stretch my legs," he said.

After discharge, Harrison, who describes himself as a "car nut," worked about 18 months as an auto salesman before the GI bill came along to help him toward his hopes.

He now works part-time in a gasoline station.

After a few classes, he wasn't as nervous as he thought he might be. Puffing on a pipe as he walked across campus, the tall, dark-haired and handsome freshman looked perfectly in place.

New Research On Water Problems Is Urgent Need

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —Possible new sources of water and problems of detergent pollution are the major parts of today's water problem, Dr. Clifford C. Furnas declares.

Furnas, president of the State University of New York at Buffalo, spoke at the closing luncheon of a week - long national water symposium held on the university campus.

"If we are unduly laggard in areas of research and development," he said, "we will suddenly find ourselves faced with a very deleterious and perhaps even a disastrous situation."

He suggested new sources of water would include the coupling of a desalination unit to a large atomic plant to convert sea water to fresh water and a better understanding of rainmaking to modify weather.

"Detergent pollution," he said, "may be alleviated by the development of new micro-organisms which will completely digest the detergents."

He also suggested research should be conducted into pollution of water by pesticides.

Federal Grants To State Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Office of Education has approved grants of over $2.1 million for construction at three Michigan colleges and universities.

Alma College, at Alma, will get $662,000 for a new physical education building which is expected to cost $2 million.

Ferris State College, at Big Rapids, will receive $580,000 for an addition to its science building which will have a total cost of $1.7 million.

Central Michigan University, at Mount Pleasant, will use a $883,000 grant to help finance a general classroom building which is expected to cost $2.7 million.

First Indian reservation in North America was at Brotherton, N. J., now known as Indian Mills.

Luci, Pat To Wed In Spectacular Cathedral

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spectacular church that rivals the imposing cathedrals of Europe will be the setting when President Johnson escorts daughter Luci to the altar Aug. 6.

Luci picked the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception for her wedding to Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

It is the $21-million national church of her adopted faith — the largest Roman Catholic church in the country, and the seventh largest in the world.

At one Mass it held 6,000.

On the arm of her father, Luci will make a sweeping entrance in her long bridal gown up three outdoor tiers of stairs — 37 steps — across four broad terraces and under the 6-foot high Roman arch.

When they walk down the aisle, they'll cover 400 feet, longer than a football field. The slow-paced march to the altar may take longer than the 10-minute ceremony. Altogether, the nuptial Mass and the wedding ceremony are expected to take an hour and 10 minutes.

Luci, 19 on July 2, will be the first bride ever married in the church. She and Nugent, 23, will take their vows before a rectangular marble altar with a 46-foot high carved marble canopy, supported by 20-foot rose-colored marble columns.

Catholics from every diocese in the United States contributed to build this shrine to the Virgin Mary. Started in 1920, construction is expected to continue at least another 25 years.

The great 56-bell carillon which will peal from twin belfries, and the wedding music will be played on two giant pipe organs that cost $250,000 and were contributed by Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Catholic chaplains and military personnel.

The shrine, in northeast Washington near Catholic University, drew more than a million visitors last year but it will be closed to the public on the wedding day. It also will be closed to all photographers.

Only invited relatives and friends, expected to number between 750 and 900, and a limited pool of reporters, will be admitted for the noon nuptial Mass by Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle, and the wedding ceremony, to be performed by the Rev. John Kuzinskas of Chicago, a lifelong friend of the Nugent family.

Father Kuzinskas, 40, and the Nugents were next-door neighbors in Waukegan before he entered St. Mary of the Lake Seminary in Mundelein, northwest of Chicago.

Motivation To Amuse Is TV Evil-Levenson

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television took humorist Sam Levenson out of the New York public school system — but show business obviously failed to take the teacher out of Levenson.

Father of a teen-age child, Levenson frets about the relationship of television and school, and winds up being critical of parents, pedagogues and commercial broadcasting.

"In 100 years of free compulsory education we have never prepared most children to be readers and thinkers," Levenson says without his familiar beaming smile. "We have laid a big fat egg in turning out millions of kids who just want to be amused."

Levenson believes that it is essential for the public schools to "teach kids to watch television."

"Why don't all the schools supply the students with 'preferred viewing lists?'" he asked. "Television supplies its own teachers for the children — the ones who want them to buy something. And, to me, the sad truth is that the schools, which have something exciting to sell, don't know how to do it as well as television does."

Levenson, surprisingly, does not worry about violence.

"I don't think TV breeds violence," he continued with considerable fire. "I think it breeds passivity. When kids see real violence, it seems like something they've seen on a TV screen, and instead of reacting to it they just watch quietly and wait for the commercial, knowing that it will turn out all right in the end with the good guys winning."

The evil in television, as Levenseon sees it, is that practically the sole motivation in viewing is amusement.

"Does the industry—commercial television—have a right only to amuse?" he asked. "Maybe they have. But on the other hand, I as a father, have the right to refuse to let them educate my children."

Levenson may be disturbed by TV's incidental role in children's education, but the record indicates that the past of elementary school children has grown more sophisticated over a 15 year period.

In a study by Paul Witty of Northwestern University (made before the advent of "Batman") it was found that the most popular children's shows last year were "The Man from U. N. C. L. E.," "Bewitched," "Shindig," "The Addams Family," "Bonanza" and "My Favorite Martian," every one, it should be noted, produced for the family audience, not particularly for young children.

Fifteen years ago the five favorite programs were "Crusader Rabbit," "Hopalong Cassidy," "Wild Bill Hickok," "Howdy Doody," the "Uncle Mistletoe," all designed for the very young.

Sample Design Gets Approval

LAPEER (AP) — Several weeks ago Lapeer City Manager Arnold Whitney announced a contest would be held to design a city seal and drew up a sample for contestants to follow.

After examining all the entries, the city commission decided that it liked Whitney's sample best of all and adopted it as the city's new seal.

A $25 savings bond intended for the contest winner will go to the runner up, the commission said.

hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

My family just loves celery, but not those strings on it.

What is the easiest way to remove them?

And, how can celery be kept real crisp for an entire week?

Mother

★ ★ ★

Dear Mom:

When you bring celery home from the store, cut the bottom off the bunch to separate all the stalks.

Using a potato peeler, start at the top of each stalk, and run the peeler down to the big end of the celery to remove all of the strings. You will have a heap of them when you are finished. (Note: NEVER place strings in a garbage disposal unit.)

Now, cut each stalk into desired lengths, and put them in a fruit jar and fill it with cold water, being sure the water completely covers ALL of the celery.

Put this in the refrigerator. Next day, removea piece and chomp on it. Gal, you have never eaten such crisp celery (wonderful in salads, too!)

This will keep for a whole week in the refrigerator without turning brown or getting limp.

If you have other celery which has become limp, try this method on it, too. Brings back crunchy crispness in 24 honrs.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

If you have a nylon eyelet bonnet that you wear over your curlers, or your hair at night, and the elastic has given way, don't throw the bonntt away.

Get some narrow ribbon and run it through the eyelets just above the elastic. Gather it and then tie the ribbon.

It workes fine, and saves buying a new nightcap.

Dear Heloise:

I have removed those blue-green under-arm stains (caused by deodorant) from my white blouses with a color remover.

Just follow directions on the box and see if it is applicable to your material.

Sammy Langclutug

Dear Heloise:

When lining my dresser drawers with pretty paper, I also use some of the same paper to cover small boxes such as those shoes come in.

The boxes are used for socks and other miscellaneous items, to separate them from other things in the drawer.

This makes a very fancy drawer, and keeps everything in order.

Mary Lynne

★ ★ ★

This idea would be great for the kiddies, too, to help them keep their drawers neat.

Heloise

Dear Heloise

This may be an idea for folks who like to comb, tweezers, styptic pencil, eye dropper, etc., in the medicine cabinet:

It is very easy to remove the hinged lid from any size adhesive bandage box, and use it as a container for these small articles. They will be easy to locate and won't fall over.

It can even be painted or covered with pretty paper, to give it a more pleasant appearance.

Sure makes for a neat medicine cabinet.

Dear Heloise:

I purchased a rubber-backed cotton carpet for the bathroom recently, and found that a 12 inch by 32 inch piece of carpet makes an extra matching bath mat.

Everything matches this way.

Joe Has Degree, Attends Reunion All On Same Day

NORTH WILBRAHAM, Mass. AP) — Joe Cotton received his college degree in the morning and attended his 30th annual class reunion in the afternoon.

Cotton—it is Joseph S. Cotton in Springfield, where he is city editor of the Springfield Union—said he had to drop out of Harvard in the 1930s when the depression put an end to his resources and forced him to find a job.

A year ago he decided to try for that final year. He received his bachelor's degree Thursday with the 1966 graduates, then attended the reunion of his original classmates.

Farm Bureau

David Olive, Stephenson, addressed the members of the Tower Farm Bureau at the meeting held Monday night at the Louis DuBord home. His topic was, "Civil Defense".

The discussion topic was, "Job Opportunities for Farm Youth," and dealt with methods of keeping youth "down on the Farm" or in the farming industry. Forty per cent of the nation's youth are in the agricultural industry and with proper training can participate in various branches of agricultural work. Farm youth have the proper attitude toward work and a basic understanding of agriculture.

Mrs. Chester Good of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee reported on the annual District Conference held June 14 in the Bates Township Hall near Iron River. She also made announcement of the Upper Peninsula Citizenship Seminar which will be held July 12-13 in the William W. Oliver Auditorium of the Escanaba Junior High School.

The next meeting of the Tower Farm Bureau will be held on Monday July 18, at the Marvin Ray home. Lunch was served by Mrs. DuBord at the close of the business meeting.

Police Enforce Florida Peace

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A precarious peace enforced by steel-helmeted riot police settled on Pompano Beach's Negro district today after a day of violence and fear.

Despite a truce that was supposed to keep Negroes off the streets, more than 200 gathered in bands Wednesday night, pitching bottles and jeering at police.

When persuasion failed to break up the groups, police put on riot helmets, drew carbines and marched down the sidewalks of the main street in formation.

The bands, who the night before had showered police with rocks and bottles, broke and ran into the side streets as the officers advanced.

When some tried to filter back, the riot squad turned around and marched the length of the street again.

Within an hour the sidewalks were deserted. No arrests were made. The only damage was a shattered window on a patrol car.

Hours before, Negro leaders had tried to arrange a truce between the rioters, who rocked the district with sporadic violence for 24 hours, and the 150 or more officers who had been organized to stop them.

Koufax Notches 13th Before Record Crowd

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax has captured the city of Houston again. He's gaining ground on the Astros, too.

Koufax weathered a 10-hit Houston attack Wednesday night for his 13th victory, tying Juan Marichal for the major league lead, as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Astros 5-2 before a crowd of 50,908 — largest ever for a baseball game in the Astrodome.

The previous attendance highs at the domed stadium were 50,136 and 49,442 last season — with Koufax and the Dodgers the attractions each time.

Last spring, when Koufax and teammate Don Drysdale were locked in a contract dispute with the Dodgers, Astro officials estimated they would lose $200,000 in revenue should the pair decide not to play this year.

While Koufax' drawing powers is as strong as ever in Houston, his 1966 pitching record against the Astros has been mediocre. Wednesday night's victory was his first in three tries this season against a club he had beaten 11 times in 12 previous decisions.

The Astros knocked him out in his first start, on April 13 in Los Angeles, and beat him 3-0 last week in the Dodgers' park. They tagged him freely again Wednesday night, Jim Wynn rapping four hits and John Bateman three, but the southpaw ace struggled through to the finish for his 13 complete game in 17 starts.

Elsewhere first-place San Francisco swept a doubleheader from Chicago 3-2 and 9-5, Cincinnati nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, Philadelphia thumped Atlanta 7-3 and New York topped St. Louis 2-0 in 10 innings.

Baltimore blanked New York 3-0, Detroit whipped Washington 12-2, California trimmed Minnesota 4-1, Cleveland beat Boston 3-2 in the opener of a twin bill but lost the nightcap 6-5; and Chicago divided a twi-nighter with Kansas City, winning the first game 7-4 and losing the second 3-1, in American League play.

San Francisco stretched its league lead to four games over the Dodgers and Pirates by holding off the Cubs in the first game and outslugging them in the nightcap.

The Giants scored all their runs in the fifth inning of the opener, Cap Peterson and Hal Lanier driving in one apiece with singles, and Gaylord Perry protected the margin for his ninth victory in 10 decisions.

Tom Haller's two-run homer capped a three-run first-inning burst in the nightcap and the Giants added four more in the second — two on Peterson's single and two on Lanier's double — for an early cushion. The Cubs battled back on homers by Ernie Banks, Billy Williams and John Boccabella but Ron Herbel, with relief help in the eighth, stopped them short.

The Reds snapped a 3-3 tie in the ninth when Bill Mazeroski threw wild pivoting for a potential inning-ending double play. The error enabled pitcher Jim Maloney to score the winning run and extended Cincinnati's unbeaten streak to five games.

Rich Allen pounded two home runs as the Phillies ruined Joey Jay's homecoming for the Braves, Jay, who returned in a trade with Cincinnati last week, lasted only 2 1-3 innings in his first start for Atlanta. Bill White also homered for the Phils and Bob Buhl scattered seven hits for his third victory as the Phils ended a five-game skid.

Cleon Jones singled across two runs with two out in the 10th, lifting the Mets past St. Louis and breaking up a duel between winning pitcher Jack Fisher and former Met Al Jackson.

Jerry Grote's double and a walk to Ron Hunt, who stole second after Grote moved up on a fly ball, set the stage for Jones' winning hit.

CLIFF RICHEY of Dallas, Tex., points at the umpire and argues a line decision during his singles match at Wimbledon, England, Wednesday. The decision was reversed in Richey's favor and he went on to defeat Terry Addison of Australia. (AP Wirephoto by cable from London)

Richie Allen Is Unbeliever

ATLANTA (AP) — Richie Allen doesn't believe in slumps so the young Philadelphia slugger wasn't surprised with the way he exploded out of a short one Wednesday night.

The sore-armed outfielder snapped an 0-for-16 hitting drought with a run-scoring double, a solo home run and a two-run homer, powering the Phillies to a 7-3 conquest of Atlanta.

The homers were the 14th and 15th of the season for Allen, who missed 21 games with a shoulder injury, and his 10th and 11th of the month.

"I wasn't in any slump," Allen said of his failure to hit in 16 previous tries. "I don't believe in 'em. I could go 28 games without a hit and I wouldn't worry about being in a slump.

"When you can hit you know they'll fall in there," Allen added. "Nobody can tell me a guy like the Braves' Hank Aaron believes in slumps. If he goes 0-for-4 one night, he'll tear off somebody's knee cap the next."

The homers marked the first time this year Allen had blasted two in one game, and his first was especially pleasing.

"That was the first one I'd hit to right field this year," Allen said. "I usually get more there."

The three hits boosted Allen's batting average to .311 and pushed him into a tie for the Phillies' runs batted in lead with Bill White. Both have 44, with White getting his latest one with a solo homer in the fifth inning.

Ralston Regains Service Touch, Defeats Russian

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, the United States No. 1 tennis Star, had got his service back under control today and was still hot on the trail of the Wimbledon title.

The 23-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., star was in the last 32 of the men's singles, along with Davis Cup teammates Cliff Richey, Charlie Pasarell and Marty Riessen. And George MacCall, manager of the U.S. Davis Cup team, said he believed Ralston is playing the kind of tennis that can win the title.

"Dennis is looking real sharp," MacCall said "He must really be in with a chance this time."

Three days ago, after an erratic victory over 18-year-old American Robert Lutz, Ralston was saying he could win the title if only he could find his touch in serving.

He went off with dozens of balls to Queen's Club and practiced for hours serving into an empty court.

The hard work paid off Wednesday. Ralston defeated Aleksander Metreveli of Russia 6-0, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 and his service looked top class again except for occasional lapses.

MacCall is watching his men closely before picking the United States team to face Mexico in the "Davis Cup" match at Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13-15.

He had one surprise Wednesday. Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, who was seeded No. 8 in the Wimbledon title hunt, was topped 3-6, 6-3, 6-8, 1-8 by the Australian left-hander Owen Davidson.

Besides Ralston, the American Davis Cup men moved in to the third round like this:

Cliff Richey, of Dallas, overcame Terry Addison of Australia 5-7, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., downed Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., 6-3, 6-3, 13-11.

Charlie Pasarell, of Santurce, P.R., outlasted 35-year-old former British Davis Cup Captain John Barrett 9-7, 1-6, 8-10, 6-4, 6-3.

Pasarell next takes on Australia's Roy Emerson, who is bidding for his third straight Wimbledon title. The Americans believe he could be the man to topple the champion.

Graebner was one of two seeds eliminated. Australian Fred Stolle, runner-up for the last three years and No. 3 seed this time, foundered 2-6, 3-6, 6-4, 2-6 to fellow-Australian Bob Hewitt in Wednesday's big upset.

Emerson cruised to a 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over West Germay's Wilhelm Bungert — the last man to beat him at Wimbledon, three years ago.

Two United Stats Wightman Cup stars — Mrs. Billie Jean Moffitt King, of Long Beach, Calif., and Nancy Richey of Dallas, moved into the third round of the women's singles.

Bissell's Boat First Winner In Sail Races

Bill Bissell earned the distinction of winning the first Seagull sailing race out of the Escanaba Yacht Harbor Wednesday, piloting his boat home first in the series opener.

Bissell earned 7½ points to take the lead in the series standings, followed by Bill Boyce with 6, Dean Shipman 5, Fran Anderson 4, Peter Boyce 3, Steve Maki 2 and John Hebert 1.

The boats sailed the six mile triangular course off the harbor in a little over one hour.

The next race in the series will be held Sunday, starting at 2.

Senators Grab Ken Harrelson

KANSAS CITY (AP) — First baseman Ken Harrelson of the Kansas City Athletics was placed on the waiver list late Wednesday night and was almost immediately picked up by the Washington Senators for the waiver price of $20,000.

Harrelson, 24, had been considered the A's regular first baseman until the recent acquisition of Roger Repoz from the New York Yankees. He came to the A's in 1963 from Portland and remained with the parent club except for a brief period in 1964 when he was assigned to Dallas in the Pacific Coast League.

In almost four full seasons in the majors, Harrelson compiled a batting average of .229 and currently is hitting 226 for 63 games with five home runs and 32 runs batted in. He bats and throws right-handed.

Palmer, Casper May Continue Golf Feud In Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Nine former champions adorn the 131-player field in the $10,000 Western Open starting today, and two — Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer — may make the tourney a private feud.

Casper, who snatched the U.S. Open crown from the collapsing Palmer at San Francisco earlier this week, is defending champion in the 72-hole medal play quest for a top prize of $20,000.

Palmer, who now has lost three National Open playoffs and two out of three playoffs on the 1966 pro tour, is a two-time Western Open winner.

He took the 1961 event at Belmont, Mich., and in 1963 turned back Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros in a Western Open playoff at Beverly Country Club in Chicago.

It was in 1963 that Palmer earlier had lost his second U.S. Open playoff, finishing behind champion Julius Boros and Jacky Cupit in their three-man overtime at Brookline, Mass.

Palmer's first National Open playoff loss came in 1962, when Nicklaus whipped him at Oakmont, Pa.

Casper, whose red hot putter whittled down Palmer in the final round Sunday and Monday's playoff of the U.S. Open in San Francisco, won $11,000 last year in taking the Western Open at Tam O'Shanter here.

Several of the 127 pros who already have probed Medinah's rugged, heavily-forested par 71 layout, regard the Western Open scene as a real challenge.

"This will be a tougher test than the Open in San Francisco," said Bob Rosburg. "Medinah is a beautiful but terrifically exacting course."

Other returning Western champions include Dutch Harrison (1953); Cary Middlecoff (1955); Doug Ford (1957); Doug Sanders (1958); Mike Souchak (1959); Cupit (1962), when the Western last was played at Medinah; and Chi Chi Rodriguez (1964).

Lending to the prospect of a two-man showdown between leading money winner Palmer and his U.S. Open tormenter, Casper, is the fact that such stars as Nicklaus, Gary Player and Boros are skipping the Western.

Former Spartan Leads Amateur

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Bob Myer expected little more than a vacation when he entered the 55th annual Michigan Amateur Golf Championship.

He had not been playing well for some time, but entered with the hope of making the cut and advancing into match play for the third time in as many years.

But Myer's vacation was all but forgotten after he shot a 36-32—68 Wednesday for the first - round qualifying lead on the Belevedere Golf Club course.

"I couldn't believe that first nine (he played the back side first) and I guess I played a little too cozy coming back," the 24-year-old Michigan State graduate student explained.

Meyer was eliminated in the first round of match play in 1964 and got as far as the third round last year.

One shot in back of the former MSU golf co-captain—who said nothing much happened while he was playing for the school team—were Don Curyla of Detroit and Pete Green of Franklin.

Bill Albright of Detroit and Cliff Taylor of Spring Lake were another stroke back with 70s, while Wayne Kramer of Flint had a 71. They were the only players in the field of 230 to break par on the hilly course.

As was expected, the scores in general were lower than last year, when it took a two - round total of 156 to reach match play. One player with a 157 made it in a playoff. It appeared a score of 153 would be needed to make the field this year. Part of the reason is that the handicap required to enter the tourney was reduced from six to five.

Chiefs Tackle Cardinals In Sunday Clash

Some of the former Cardinal players who will be back in uniform Sunday are Doug Demars, Ron Rubick, Ron Johnson, Bob Weber, Bob Carlson and Ken Blowers.

Harni Local Wins BR Game

Harnischfeger Local defeated Teamsters, 6-4, in Babe Ruth baseball action Wednesday.

Doug Howard and Tom Rader shared mound duties for the winners, scattering eight hits while walking eight and striking out eight.

Dan Young had three hits, Roger Chylek and Dave DeSalvo two each for Harnischfeger. Dave Moberg gave up 10 hits and fanned seven from the Teamster mound. He didn't issue a walk. Moberg and Mike Bucholtz had two hits each for the Teamsters.

Packers Sign Two Reserves

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Packer sophomores Allen Jacobs and Rich Marshall have returned their signed contracts for the 1966 National Football League season, it was announced today.

Jacobs was a reserve fullback and saw only limited duty on offense last season. Marshall will be competing for a spot at defensive tackle.

Girls Softball

Lombardi's Bar defeated Escanaba Machine, 6-5, Wednesday. Judy Erickson paced the winners with two homeruns.

Senators Make Wrong Guesses Against Tigers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators' strategy section made a wrong guess Wednesday.

They told pitcher Phil Ortega to walk Jim Northrup and pitch to Willie Horton.

The intentional pass to Northrup filled the bases and Wonderful Willie cleared them with a grand - slam home run.

His belt helped the Tigers to a 12-2 victory over Washington.

Actually, the first mistake was sending Ortega to the mound at all. The first Tiger he faced, Dick McAuliffe, cracked a home run over the right field fence.

Dick Tracewski grounded out, but Norm Cash doubled. Al Kaline singled and Northrup walked to set up Horton's four - run hit.

Detroit added three runs in the second inning to make it 8-0. McAuliffe doubled, Tracewski singled and Cash doubled both of them home. Cash took third on a wild pitch and Kaline brought him home with a sacrifice fly.

Detroit added one in the fourth when Mickey Stanley singled and took second on an error. Northrup drove him home with a single.

Tiger hurler Mickey Lolich, who went all the way to run his record to 7-4, gave up two runs in the fourth. Don Lock singled and Paul Casanova homered.

Lolich gave up five more hits, but allowed no scores.

The Tigers added insult to injury by scoring three more times in the ninth. Horton singled and Freehan walked. Ray Oyler, the only Tiger who failed to hit, made it to first on an error, loading the bases.

Lolich collected his second hit, scoring Horton and Freehan. Tracewski singled to drive in Oyler.

Horton continued his hot streak getting three hits in four trips and driving in four runs. McAuliffe, Tracewski, Cash and Lolich added two hits each and Don Wert, Tracewski, Cash and Lolich added two hits each and Don Wert, Kaline, Stanley, Northrup and Freehan got one apiece.

The victory was the sixth for the Tigers in seven games and kept them two games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Detroit will try Washington again tonight, with Earl Wilson starting.

McAuliffe Keeps Up Torrid Pace With Foot-In-Air Batting Style

By The Associated Press

Hitting with one foot in the air doesn't seem to bother Detroit's Dick McAuliffe, but teammate Mickey Lolich apparently has to pitch with both feet on the ground.

Lolich, who landed in Washington after two weeks in the Air National Guard, scattered seven hits and struck out 10 while McAuliffe rapped a homer and double while triggering two big rallies as the Tigers clubbed the Senators 12-2 Wednesday night.

It was a strong performance for Lolich, who has been fulfilling his military obligation since the beginning of the month. He tried to pitch on his day off from camp last Sunday after being air-lifted into Detroit but was belted out in the second inning by the New York Yankees.

McAuliffe, who raises one foot in the air as he swings from his left-handed stance in the manner of oldtimer Mel Ott, combined with Willie Horton to give Lolich more than enough support.

McAuliffe led off the game with a homer, triggering a five-run outburst capped by Horton's grand slam homer. Then the Detroit shortstop got the Tigers started again with a leadoff double in a three-run second inning uprising.

McAuliffe, on a torrid streak for the last 12 games, has hit at a .375 clip during that period, raising his over-all average to .301. Of the 18 hits he has collected, 13 have been for extra bases, including seven home runs.

The victory kept the Tigers two games behind the American League leading Baltimore Orioles, who blanked the New York Yankees 3-0 on Steve Barber's four-hit pitching and a home run by Curt Blefary.

Elsewhere, third-place Cleveland got three homers from Rocky Colavito but split, defeating Boston 3-2 before losing 6-5, the Chicago White Sox belted Kansas City 7-4 before the A's took the nightcap 3-1 and California defeated Minnesota 4-1.

In the National League, San Francisco swept the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and 9-5, Los Angeles took Houston 5-2, Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 4-3, Philadelphia downed Atlanta 7-3 and the New York Mets blanked St. Louis 2-0 in 10 innings.

Barber, who retired 14 Yankees at one stretch as he lifted his record to 7-2, was locked in a scoreless tie with Fred Talbot until the Orioles broke through in the seventh inning.

Brooks Robinson singled, Boog Powell walked, Blefary hit his 12th homer and Talbot's record was 5-5.

Two homers by Colavito and a run-scoring single by Vic Davalillo proved enough for the Indians in the opener.

The Red Sox came back in the nightcap, winning it with two out in the ninth on a walk to Carl Yastrzmski and Don Demeter's double off Tom Kelley. Colavito also homered in the nightcap while Tony Conigliaro hit one in each game for Boston.

Land Potential Will Be Studied

A study of economic potential of land in eastern Upper Michigan for income from agriculture, recreation and forestry is to be made by the Soil Conservation districts of the 5-county area with assistance of the SCS.

A pilot study has been made in the Brimley area, showing that conservatively three quarter million per year could be obtained in revenue from the land. On the Keeweenaw peninsula, where a similar study was made, six new beef producers are operating and canoe guide service has been established.

The eastern U. P. study is to be completed by Dec. 15. Information will be made available to local planning groups, Chambers of Commerce and to individuals. Group meetings will be held in various areas to gather data.

Area Fishing Picks Up

Increased insect hatches and lowering of stream levels have resulted in an upswing in fishing. Black flies have decreased in the past week and mosquitos will shortly, the Conservation Department fishing report notes.

Blue gills are starting to work in nesting areas on northern lakes and good possibilities with worms are the following lakes: Deadman's, Twin, Stuart, Brevoort, Little Brevoort, Whitefish, Colwell, Crooked, East, Sunken, Cookson and Dodge. A 1 pound 3 ounce bluegill was taken in Sunken Lake.

Brimley Bay is producing "lunker" northerns with casting with a daredevil producing good results. A 12-pound and a 15-pound catch were reported. Other good spots are Milakokia, Millecoquins, Brevoort and Whitefish lakes, East Bay, Sullivan and Pickerel lakes, Worchester, Ross, Snyder and Lily lakes should be tried, it was noted. Schoolcraft has been producing fish up to seven pounds.

Walleye catches continue good on Whitefish Lake, Big Manistique Lake and Indian Lake. Minnows appear to be preferred bait. Excellent catches have been made in Lake George Raber and Munuscong bays and the St. Mary's River, with best results by trolling in shallows near weed beds.

Raber Bay on the Lower St. Mary's is producing good results at moderate depths for yellow perch. Current hot spots for this fish include Big Manistique Lake, Round Lake, Perch and Muskallunge lakes, and Snyder Lake.

Milakokia Lake is the present producer of smallmouth bass and Boot and Colwell lakes are yielding fine largemouth bass. Dutch Fred Lake is the consistent hot spot for bullheads, using night crawlers. Brevoort and Millecoquins lakes are producing banner catches of panfish with lures ranging from worms and insect larvae to dry flies.

For those interested in catching suckers, there are reports of this fish still being in the Carp and Pine rivers.

Trout fishing has picked up with good catches reported on the Tahquamenon River above McMillan bridge, the Upper Two-Hearted and Little Two-Hearted, east branch of the Tahquamenon, and the Sucker, Fix, Hurricane and Hickey rivers, as well as the south branch and main stream of the Carp River and the west end of Brevoort Lake. Dutch Fred Lake also is reporting good catches. Frank and Long lakes are yielding good.

Clear, Bear and Island lakes are constant producers of rainbow trout. A 5½-pound rainbow was taken at the mouth of the municipal pier in Grand Marais and Grand Marais Creek is still producing a few catches. Good splake catches have been made on Moon and Pretty lakes on lures ranging from fly larvae, leeches, marshmallows and spinning hardware.

Reports have been received of lake trout taken by trolling in Lake Superior with two fishermen reportedly catching eight fish, weighing up to four pounds, in four hours.

Some cisco were taken during May fly hatches in Whitefish Lake this week. Some nice whitefish were taken in the vicinity of Soo Rapids in the Upper St. Mary's River and good catches have been reported from Sable Creek.

What's a nice-looking car like you doing in a Volkswagen ad?

Nobody made a mistake. That shapely car is the new Volkswagen Fastback.

It's in this VW ad because it's a VW.

(We haven't made very many yet, so you probably haven't even seen one yet. That's why we're running this ad in the first place.)

The Fastback isn't a VW in name only; it's a Volkswagen through and through.

The engine is air-cooled so it has no use for water or antifreeze. And it's in the back to make the going easy when the weather isn't.

The Fastback is airtight, like all Volkswagens, because it's made in the same plant by the same people.

Naturally, there are differences, too.

The Fastback engine is a little more powerful (the car will cruise at better than 80). It holds 5 nicely. It has disc brakes in front. The upholstery is (for us) kind of jazzy.

If you've steered clear of a Volkswagen because it wasn't big enough or good-looking enough or expensive enough, you may be forced into thinking it all through again.

Sorry.

Television Grant For Bay de Noc Approved By U.S.

A $13,025 grant from the Office of Education for closed circuit television at Bay de Noc Community College was approved today, it was announced by Sen. Philip Hart and Cong. Raymond F. Clevenger.

A grant of $15,000 for closed circuit television and a $50,000 grant for laboratory and special equipment for Northern Michigan University, Marquette, also was approved by the Office of Education.

Closed circuit television at Bay de Noc will allow the college to "provide more individualized instruction and a greater opportunity for learning," according to President Richard Rinehart.

"The college has established policies to hold the enrollment in particular sections of courses to 25 students," Rinehart added.

Use of television will allow instructors to handle larger enrollments for selected lectures and demonstrations.

"Probably the most important advantage that will be derived from closed circut television is the ability to preserve lecture material in the library on video tape so that the student can have extra exposure to them," he said. "The opportunity to go over certain lecture material and visual aids in single situations will add to the effectiveness of instruction and learning."

The entire installation will be in the Catherine Bonifas Hall of the college. The studio would be located in Room 104, presently part of the Library, and the cameras, chain, and film camera chains will be located here, together with the video tape recorder, switching equipment and the console.

In addition, a small studio area will be set up with lighting and set construction. Room 105 will be used for telecasting of discussion groups and related programs. Room 102 will be used for telecasting lectures and programs for larger audiences. Room 203 will be used as an overflow room for larger lectures and will be fitted with two receivers strategically located.

Rooms 106 (presently Biology lab) 204, 207, 307 (Secretarial Sciences), 308 (Drafting and Technical Room), and 309 will have signal receivers. The maximum attendance in any one room will be from twenty-five to thirty students.

Cable connections from Room 102 and 105 will be fed into the studio, Room 104, and all wires to individual sets will be fed out of this room to the above mentioned rooms. This will allow approximately four or five classes to use television on a given day and one more for the evening classes for that day.

Mouse Bites Child, Dies

A mouse which Wednesday afternoon bit a five-year-old Escanaba girl, was captured and died, today was flown to the State Health Dept. laboratory in Lansing for tests to determine whether or not it was rabid.

City Police said the mouse bit Susan Mary Jacobsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobsen, 218 Lake Shore Dr., on the left thumb.

The parents captured the mouse, which appeared sick, and placed it in a coffee can. A short time later the mouse died.

Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Dept., said a report on the mouse is expected Friday.

"The chance of getting rabies from a mouse or a rodent of any kind is not great, but it is possible," Dr. Cretens said. "We have to have the animal checked to be sure."

Students Of Alice Cossett Present Recital

Music students of Miss Alice Cossett L. M. presented an interesting and enjoyable program Wednesday afternoon at her studio apartment.

The pupils in various sections of the course displayed much progress in interpretation, technical facility, control and tonal expression in both solo and ensemble selections for two pianos.

Special music was given to two senior first year students, Ann Diedrich and Roberta Miketinac and to Mary Jo Meinz in the advanced intermediate section.

The following students received an A rating: Janis Hall, Michelle Meehan, John Diedrich, Kristine Sankovitch, Robert Diedrich, Dave Short and Julie Nelson.

Following the recital a social hour for parents and students was held.

Briefly Told

City police issued traffic tickets Wednesday to Robert F. Neumann, 2851 Lake Shore Dr., excessive noise; Lawrence J. Erickson, Rte. 2, Bark River, speeding; Larry E. Deiter, Rte. 1, Gladstone, speeding; Kenneth D. Starnes, 1607 N. 20th St., speeding and William E. Fodor Jr., Box 53, Bark River, speeding.

Escanaba firemen responded to two calls Wednesday. At 1:07 p. m. they were called to 5th Ave. N., and N. 16th St. to control a burning out of an old car. At 2:50 p. m. firemen went to the old Jensen & Jensen dock on 1st Ave. N., where planking on a dock was on fire. Damage was slight.

Application for a marriage license has been made at the County Clerk's office by Lawrence Nelson, 108 1st Ave. S., and Janet Marie Geb, 1208 S. 16th St.

Health Advisory Group Organizes

An organizational meeting of the Community Advisory Committee to the Home Health Service program was held Tuesday epening in the office of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Catherine Nichol, R.N., Mrs. Levi Perrin, Clarence Moore, Thomas McDermott, Rev. Ben Helmer and E. J. Gordon, M.D., all of Escanaba, Mary Cretens, M.D., Marian Tillman, R.N., Mrs. Milburn Nolan and Mrs. David Farrand of Gladstone; Nancy Pearson, R.N., Fr. Norbert Freiburger of Wells; and Henry W. Vietzke of Rapid River.

Functions of the committee is to interpret the Home Health Services of the local health department to the community, evaluate effectiveness of the home care program in the community, offer advice on program policy and recruitment of resources.

With the coming of Medicare, home health services will be available through the Health Department to patients over 65 years of age upon request of the patient's physician.

Home nursing, however, is available to any patient, regardless of age, also upon the request of patient's own physician. Fees for services to patients not under Medicare are set, whenever necessary, according to ability to pay.

Mrs. David Farrand was appointed chairman of the group and Miss Marian Tillman, R.N., was appointed secretary and publicity chairman.

Cancel Reception For King Faisal

NEW YORK (AP) — Nayor John V. Lindsay said today he has canceled tonight's scheduled reception for visiting King Faisal of Saudi Arabia.

Lindsay's office issued the following statement:

"The dinner is canceled. Under the circumstances, the mayor has concluded that it would not be feasible to proceed with the dinner."

Faisal had stirred a political storm in New York with reported remarks that he regarded the Jews as his country's enemies.

The mayor had said earlier that he was "deeply disturbed" by the reports.

Medal Winner Is A Shy Hero

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's newest Medal of Honor winner is a shy, quiet 32-year-old 1st lieutenant who says he didn't know he was being a hero during that long night last year in South Viet Nam.

"I had a mission to perform — and I did it," recalled Charles O. Williams, a wearer of the green beret of the Army Special Forces. "The thought that I was being a hero didn't occur to me. I just wanted to protect my men."

Williams took command of his detachment after his commanding officer was wounded during a fierce night-long battle while a Viet Cong regiment was attempting to overrun the special forces outpost at Dong Xoai on June 9-10, 1965.

Despite several wounds, Williams directed defense operations, stabilized his unit's position and encouraged his troops to hold out against the attackers. At the time, he was executive officer of the A detachment, 5th Special Forces Group.

He was ordered back to the United States last February after a year's service in Viet Nam.

and also of CCI Monday while in Ohio attending the Midwestern Governor's Conference.

"From then through today," Romney said "the full machinery of state government has been at work, including the Legislature, the Department of Commerce and the executive office. I believe recent days evidence the desire of all to continue the improvement of Michigan's economy, particularly in those areas where jobs are most needed."

If built, it will be Munising's biggest industrial development since the Munising Paper Co. was organized (now a subsidiary of Kimberly Clark Corp) in the early 1900s.

Manistique Pulp & Paper Co.

Marks Million Investment

Completion of a million-dollar Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. plant improvement program was celebrated at a dinner in the Arrowhead Inn in Manistique Wednesday evening.

Purpose of the dinner was to pay tribute to Manistique Pulp & Paper president and general manager, Frank S. Hoholik, and members of his staff. It was attended by nine members of the board of directors and other executives of Field Enterprises, Inc., the parent company of the Manistique organization.

George B. Young, Russ Stewart and Hoholik were the principal speakers at the event. Young is president of Field Enterprises, Inc., and last week was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the company effective Oct. 1. Stewart is a vice president of Field Enterprises, a member of the board, and chairman of the board of Manistique Pulp & Paper.

Hoholik said, in discussing the improvement program: "We have almost completely rebuilt our Fourdrinier paper machine to make it as modern as any in the United States."

A groundwork specialty mill, Manistique now offers a wide range of publication grade papers from catalog stocks to wallpaper with more than thirty grades in between, including offset, rotogravure and computer papers.

"This is the second phase of our improvement program," Hoholik added. "In March 1965 we erected a new high-pressure steam plant. Now our new paper machine, with its improved screening system, new pressure-head box, new presses, breaker stack, size press, calender stack and reels completes our modernization."

Hoholik announces at the same time that Walter Peek Sales Corp. will handle the sale of offset papers and other specialty grades for Manistique, effective July 1.

Attending the dinner, the Manistique board meeting and a plant tour Thursday were the Field Enterprises board members, Harold H. Anderson, Edward McCormick Blair, Alexander Hehmeyer, Wilbur C. Munnecke, Howard V. Phalin, Howard A. Seitz, Russ Stewart, J. G. Trezevant and George B. Young, plus Melvin G. Barker, a Manistique board member and L. V. Denniston, Field Enterprises construction director.

Manistique staff members honored, in addition to Hoholik, were: Lois Ott, assistant secretary-treasurer; George K. Bauscher, master mechanic; Lawrence Boyd, assistant master mechanic; Clare V. Chamberlin, director customer relations and services; Leif Allen Christensen, technical service superintendent; Lawrence Fisette, pulpmill superintendent; Clifford Ager Lewis, Jr., assistant paper machine superintendent; Maurice Cline Reid, plant engineer; and Otmer Schuster, director of scheduling and personnel.

Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Field Enterprises, Inc., which publishes the Chicago Sun-Times, Chicago Daily News, World Book Encyclopedia and other educational materials and operates WFLD-TV in Chicago.

Walter Peek Sales is a new Chicago-based company. Walter D. Peek, its president, entered the paper business in 1921 and has operated Walter D. Peek, Inc. since 1929. Walter A. Peek is vice president in charge of sales; Samuel Pruyn, Jr., secretary-treasurer; and Robert H. Meyer, Midwestern sales manager.
